

January 2011 Table of Contents

- Growing Wealthier. Chuck Kooshian and Steve Winkelman. Center for Clean Air Policy. January 2011.
- A&S Interview: Richard Altman. Paul Hoversten. Air & Space Magazine. January 1, 2011.
- Predicting the Climate-Changed City of the Future. Saqib Rahim. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 3, 2011.
- "Bulge" in Atmospheric Pressure Responsible for Cold Winter Amid Global Warming. Christa Marshall and Tiffany Stecker. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 5, 2011.
- Finding the Fingerprints of Climate Change in Storm Damage. Evan Lehmann. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 4, 2011.
- Green Giant Planner for Portland. Dan Springer. FoxNews.com. January 5, 2011
- Climate Shifts Changing New Weather "Normals". Joey Peters. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 7, 2011.
- Have Insurers Begun to Detect Climate Change in Storm Damage? Evan Lehmann. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 11, 2011.
- Martha Stewart Goes Green with KB Home Project. USAToday.com. January 11, 2011.
- Adding Greenhouse Gas Measurements to Weather Monitors. Lauren Morello. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 12, 2011.
- NOAA: 2010 Tied For Earth's Warmest Year on Record. Doyle Rice. USAToday.com. January 12, 2011.
- Study: Banded Penguins Die Sooner, Skewing Climate Data. Elizabeth Weise. USAToday.com. January 12, 2011.
- M.I.T. Panel Says a Charging Infrastructure May Be a Bigger Roadblock for Electric Vehicles Than Technology. Peter Behr. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 14, 2011.
- Retail Outlets Adding Electric Car Charging Stations. Jeff DeLong. USAToday.com. January 14, 2011.
- Home Builders See Green Prefab Potential. Wendy Kooh. USAToday.com. January 16, 2011.
- Going "All The Way" With Renewable Energy? Mason Inman. National Geographic News. January 17, 2011.
- U.S., China Clash on Energy, Environment. Associated Press. FoxNews.com. January 17, 2011.
- U.S. Clean-Energy Tech Firms Face Difficult Choices between Collaboration and Competition. Peter Behr. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 17, 2011.
- Corals Adapt to Global Warming-Related Infections. Dan Vergano. USAToday.com. January 18, 2011.
- USDA Unveils New Green, Bio-Based Product Label. Wendy Kooh. USAToday.com. January 19, 2011.

- Will Climate Change Cause Crop Shortfalls by 2020. Dina Fine Maron. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 19, 2011.
- Does Helping the Planet Hurt the Poor? Bjorn Lomborg. WSJ.com. January 22, 2011.
- Reducing Parking Spaces Helps Cities Cut Auto Emissions. Tiffany Stecker. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 24, 2011.
- U.S., California to Jointly Seek Higher Car Fuel Economy. Wendy Kooh. USA Today.com. January 24, 2011.
- Obama Climate Adviser Browner to Step Down. Mike Emanuel and Associated Press. FoxNews.com. January 25, 2011.
- Republican Lawmaker Ends Pelosi's House Composting Program. FoxNews.com. January 25, 2011.
- Space-based "A-Train" Satellites Set to Provide More Accurate Climate Data. Lauren Morello. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 25, 2011.
- The World's Newest, Greenest City: Can It Work? Bryan Walsh. Time.com. January 25, 2011.
- Why Some Cities Can Be Far More Energy Efficient Than Others. Tiffany Stecker. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 26, 2011.
- GM: We Don't Need Gov't Loan to go Green; Volt Coming to 50 States. Ken Thomas. Associated Press, USA Today.com. January 27, 2011.
- How Well Does a U.N. Agency Do Its Pricey 'Green Job'? Not That Well, Study Says. George Russell. FoxNews.com. January 27, 2011.
- LED Replacements for Edison's Light Bulb Expand. Wendy Kooh. USA Today.com. January 27, 2011.
- New Report Details How Climate Change Can Destabilize Nations. Dina Fine Maron. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 27, 2011.
- Volvo Develops an Automated 'Road Train.' FoxNews.com. January 27, 2011.
- Will 'Intelligent Cities' Put an End to Suburban Sprawl. Haya El Nasser. USA Today.com. January 28, 2011.
- Can the U.S. Government Help Domestic Solar Companies Compete? Peter Behr. Climatewire, Scientific American. January 31, 2011.
- The Carbon Tax Miracle Cure. Alan S. Blinder. WSJ.com. January 31, 2011.